*Summer's here, and the time is right,
For vomiting in the streets...*

So, give us an opportunity to play in front of several thousand people on a Sunday morning, and what do we do by way of pre-gig preparation? Yup, we get shitfaced the night before. Never mind, welcome to this summer's AUF flyer, packed with juicy sunshine goodness, vitamins, minerals, essential oils and nutrients. And some gigs. You can really taste the gigs, actually. I certainly can the next morning, although I'm not entirely sure why.

And remember – every time you miss an AUF gig, a fluffy little kitten dies. We're not proud of this – we're just letting you know how it is.
