Hi folks, and welcome to 2016!

If you're reading this, then either you're experiencing an evening with the finest, most talented, sexiest-looking, and above all, modest, rock'n'roll band in the South West; or you're a cleaner, picking this up off the floor the following morning. Either way, we hope you're having a nice time, and we look forward to seeing you again soon! Particularly if you're a cleaner - come and find us at our next gig and say "It's me! I'm the cleaner! Stop leaving your bloody flyers all over the place!"

We hope to see you soon!
